CASE: DIALOGUE DILEMMA!

NAME:

CASE FILE DETAILS:

Elephant & Piggie books have exploded and remnants have been left around the classroom. The books' bindings have been destroyed. The literature risks extinction as these were the only remaining copies of Mo Willems' classic tales!

YOUR TASK:

You must preserve Elephant & Piggie for future generations. Using your knowledge of dialogue and your skills as a future author, your task is to create a short story using the book remnants that you can find. Write the dialogue as you would see it in a novel, using descriptive language to show the emotions behind the characters' words.

Remember to start each phrase (words in a speech bubble) on a new line!
